The HCG Diet as a feasible weight loss remedy finally received validation and approval from the Nevada State Board of Medical Examiners. Colin F. Watson of HCGDietReveled.com responds to the recent approval of HCG as a weight loss drug by the Nevada State Board of Medical Examiners. At a meeting on March 5, 2010 the State Board of Medical Examiners voted unanimously to allow the use of human chorionic gonadotropin (HCG) as a practical treatment in the battle to reduce the obesity crisis plaguing millions of overweight people around the world.

Medical professionals in the state questioned the delayed approval and express relief that the popular weight loss method was voted through the board. The board's decision followed being contacted personally by several medical professionals vouching for the product after personal use for drastic weight loss.
